PRECAUTIONS AGAINST AN OUTBREAK.

NEW YORK, Dec. 23.—A Dublin letter to the Sunday News says: The government officials are frequently sold by stories that Stephens has landed at different points on the coast, and are keeping troops and gunboats constantly on the move. The government park, in which is situated the government powder magazine, has been surrounded by heavily manned earthworks and palisades. Troops are continually arriving from England, and it is suspected that the Irish regiments are to be transported to England and the colonies. Despite all the exertions of the authorities, midnight meetings for drill and exercise are held all over Ireland, and the people are evidently awaiting Stephens' arrival to rise in spite of the great odds against them.

DISASTER TO THE TURKS IN CANDIA.

Mail advices from Candia give details of the disaster to the Turks at the Convent of Arcadior. The Convent contained five hundred and forty souls, including three hundred and forty-three women and children, leaving one hundred and ninety-seven men to defend it against Mustapha Pacha's army of twelve thousand. The Cretans refused to surrender, and the Turks bombarded the Convent two days and nights. After breaching the walls, the Turks poured into the court of the Convent, when a monk fired a magazine, hurling the Christians and Turks into the air. Two thousand Turks were killed and a large number were wounded. Only thirty-nine men and sixty women and children of the garrison were left alive. Over one thousand Turks were wounded. The Turks burned seven Cretan villages, in revenge for which the Cretans have burned twenty-seven Turkish villages.

The prisoner had previously declined to answer where this money was, as it would, he said, compromise innocent parties. The consel declined to tell where he obtained the money.

Magnificent Silver Plated Goods, from Sheffield, England.

The superb collection of above goods, imported by the manufacturers, Fisher & Co., of Paternoster Works, will be on private sale only to-day, and all Wednesday next, on the second floor of Mellwaine's Auction Rooms, Smithfield street, opposite the Postoffice. For ladies, a convenient side entrance from Fifth street, immediately above Smithfield street. These rich and beautiful specimens of taste and skill are unsurpassed in styles or quality, and the variety more numerous than we have ever before seen. The high character of the manufacturers is a guarantee of quality; and, as they are now on the eve of returning home to England, they will sell these goods at twenty-five per cent. less than cost. This is an unusual opportunity for purchasing. Ladies and gentlemen are invited to call. The goods will be open for sale only on Monday and Wednesday.

Another Workhouse Meeting.—Those having in charge the enterprise of selecting a site for the proposed new workhouse, held another meeting on Saturday. The result of the meeting was nothing but an adjournment to meet again next Saturday. Meanwhile Allegheny county is becoming more and more sadly in need of the proposed institution, and the prospect of having that need supplied is becoming not very much brighter than before the project was broached at all. We would not presume to dictate, but we would timidly suggest, that after two or three more meetings for the sake of adjourning, a meeting for the sake of doing something might prove satisfactory.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

CHRISTMAS.

The Observance of the Day—The Custom of Making Presents—Rambles Among the Stores—Where to Go, and What to Buy.

The Christmas holidays are upon us, with their store of delightful recollections to those who long since reached the estate of manhood or womanhood, and who now live over their young days in the happy sports and eager anticipations of their little ones. We pity the man or woman whose memory, to-day, is not charged with delightful thoughts of by-gone Christmas times. Their lot in life must indeed have been a sad one, if these holidays do not afford them matter for pleasant revery and sadly sweet reminiscences. With the little folks, the season is one of anticipation. They are now treasuring up matter in their memories, for pleasant thoughts and tender recollections in future days. And those are wise parents—high or low, rich or poor—who give a new charm to the homes of their children to-day; a charm that the lapse of years will not dissipate, and that will serve in the distant future to weld together in the bonds of love, the merry faces who to-day sport about the family Christmas tree, or, up before the sun, scramble to the chimney corner, to judge of the liberality of Santa Claus. Who has not noticed the sleeplessness of the small fry of humanity on Christmas eve and morning!

Our modern commemoration of the Christmas holidays, while it does not partake of the wild revelry and rude sports, or the superstitious ceremonials of a past age, yet retains as its principal feature, a most pleasing and beneficent social custom. Christmas with us is the season of a general heart enlargement; we are lavish of our money, in the unselfish hope of bringing pleasure to others; and above all, prodigal in the forgiveness of injuries and well-wishes for those deemed enemies, for is it not at this season that the star-lit vision of the shepherds on the hills of Bethlehem repeats the golden promise all the world over—

Peace and good will, good will and peace,
Peace and good will to all mankind.

The universality of making Christmas presents grows with each succeeding year. It is not alone the wealthy who enjoy the pleasures, under the family roof-tree, of this happy season. We have noticed within the past few days, in our markets, good women, evidently in the most humble station of life—women who toil hard and long to keep the wolf from the door—carrying with them homewards, the traditional Christmas tree. To be sure, it will not be decked with the richness displayed in the parlors of the wealthy, but it carries with it to the humble hearthstone a wealth of joy and happiness, and inaugurates a season of love and mutual kindness. There is a pleasure too in surprising the absent ones, with tokens that they are remembered at home. Charles Lamb punningly says, "presents endears absents," but how much more endearing are gifts and givers, when all are gathered together within the sacred circle of the home!

It is a matter of general remark that at no previous season have our city dealers in all varieties of goods suitable for Christmas presents, displayed in their stores such large and varied assortments as this year; and year by year we notice the articles designed for presents are assuming a more practical and useful character. Instead of the ridiculously foolish "annuals" and other wishy-washy stuff of a dozen years ago, the publishers, as a rule in their holiday reprints this year, have selected for illustration the choicest of foreign and American literature. We have never seen finer specimens of printing than have been put forth this winter, many of our standard authors appearing for the first time in regal costume. We are glad to note, too, that the efforts of our American printers and engravers fully equal those of the best foreign workmen. Then, as characteristic of our utilitarian age, it is noticeable that that marvel of modern times, the sewing Machine, stands high in the favor of indulgent parents, and especially with those who boast a newly married daughter. Many a fair young bride's household will be made joyous hereafter by the click click of this great labor-saver: "Father's Christmas gift." So it is in the countless variety of seasonable goods exhibited in every department of trade; the practical and beautiful seem to have been wedded. Even the toys for the youngsters afford lessons in chemistry, electricity and mechanics.

We tender, thus early, our hearty Christmas congratulations to our readers, and also this advice: If, in the hurry of business, the children have been neglected to this hour, it is not too late yet to make due reparation and secure the requisite presents. See that the stockings are filled and the Christmas tree adorned, if only with trifles, so that on Christmas morning there may be none but bright faces in your homes.

One thing more: those other children of the Father of us all—the poor—should be specially remembered at this season. A garment, a blanket, a little food, or a few coals, may give substantial happiness to some humble household, long a stranger to the comforts of life. "The poor ye have always with you," and at no time should their appeal be more generously acknowledged than when we are celebrating with joyous hearts the birth of Him, whose lessons of charity and love for our fellow-men constituted so much of His mission on earth.

—To-day we present our readers with the addresses of a number of our retail advertisers, arranged under proper heads. In the hurry of preparation we may have omitted many of our retail merchants, for which omission we humbly apologize, and will again take opportunity of correcting our list if notified by the friends left out in the cold.

Fancy Goods, Notions, &c.

The searcher for presents will not be at a loss to discover something that will suit his fancy, and at the same time prove most acceptable as a gift to old or young, gay or morose, in the palatial trimming and notion stores which occupy so prominent a position in the city trade. The purchaser will find rich lace goods, silk scarfs, fine embroideries, dress shirts, ladies and gents' furnishing goods and a thousand and one articles of use and beauty, any one of which would make a most desirable Christmas or New Years gift. The following houses are more especially worthy of patronage:

D. Dennison, 27 Fifth street.
F. H. Eaton, 17 Fifth street.
Joseph Horne & Co., 77 and 79 Market street.
Macrum & Carlisle, 19 Fifth street.
Macrum, Glyde & Co., 78 and 80 Market St.

Jewelry, Musical Boxes, &c.

A fine, valuable article of jewelry has ever been regarded as a suitable gift. Every body is delighted in the possession of costly trinkets and feel doubly more their value when received as gifts from near and dear friends. What could be grander as a present than a star provoking diamond ring, a fine gold watch, or rich set of jewelry! Nine-tenths of the community favor jewelry in selecting holiday presents, for no matter how trifling the gift may be, it will prove serviceable to the recipient. In the well kept jewelry establishments of this city will be found stocks that have not their superior west of the mountains. The responsible dealers are,

Dunseath & Co., 56 Fifth street.
Johnston & Scott, 274 Liberty street.
Roberts, 16 Fifth street.
Will T. Wilie, 6 Wylie street.
C. C. Algeo, 22 Fifth street.
J. R. Reed & Co., 73 Fifth street
Jno. Mitsch, 112 Federal street, Allegheny.
S. M. Orr, 37 Ohio street, Allegheny.

Dry Goods.

An elegant dress silk pattern, rich brocha shawl or any other judicious selection from the shelves of our enterprising dry goods dealers will prove just the thing to present to a female relative and friend. Never before have the dealers in this line of goods shown more judgment in their selection of goods for the holidays. Their shelves are weighed down with the most appropriate and seasonable goods, which will be disposed of at prices in keeping with the recent heavy fluctuations in goods in the Eastern markets. The reader need hardly be recommended to the following houses, as they are widely known to all shoppers:

Bates & Bell, 21 Fifth street.
White, Orr & Co., 25 Fifth street.
Erwin McConnell & Co., No. 178 Federal street, Allegheny.
J. W. Barker & Co., Market street.
Gardiner & Schliter, 92 Market street.
R. Deaker, corner of Fifth and Grant streets.
H. J. Lynch, 69 Market street.

Hosiery and Woolen Goods

At the old stand of James Phelan, No. 24 Fifth street, will be found a fine stock of hosiery, gloves, and woolen garments, which will prove highly acceptable as holiday gifts.

Queensware.

Full sets of China or Ironstone ware have been always regarded as appropriate and sensible gifts. At the well known houses of Richard E. Breed, No. 100 Wood street, or H. Higby's, No. 22 Wood street, will be found the finest stocks in the city. In addition to queensware they both keep fine Parian ware, vases, cut glass and Bohemian wares.

Sewing Machines.

Nearly every house contains a sewing machine, and homes which do not should immediately be placed in the possession of one. In the nineteenth century it is a sin for a husband or father to permit his wife or daughters to waste away their health at the most tedious of all work—hand sewing. A sewing machine is just the thing for a present of a suitable, sensible character. On an occasion like the present we cannot be expected to say which is the best in the market, but will simply refer our readers to the different agents, who will doubtless fully explain to them the superior merits of the machine they sell. Here they are:

Wm. Sumner & Co., agents of Wheeler & Wilson's, 27 Fifth street.
A. F. Chatoney, agent of the Grover & Baker, No. 18 Fifth street.
R. H. Long, Grant, opposite Cathedral.
Howe machine, No. 4 St. Clair street.

Gentlemen's Clothing.

For a suit of ready made clothing, a good overcoat or any thing in the gent's furnishing line, we refer our readers to the mammoth establishment of Mr. J. D. Ramaley, Nos. 334 and 336 Liberty street. He is selling off below cost, preparatory to removing into his new palatial store, opposite the Union Depot.

Henry G. Hale, the fashionable manufacturer of clothing, corner of St Clair and Penn streets has on hands a large and carefully selected stock of fine materials for the making of suits to order. He enjoys a very high reputation as a skilfull tailor, and our readers would do well to favor him with a call.

An immense stock of fine clothing is offered at closing out prices at the popular cheap headquarters known as McGratty's, corner of Ohio street and Diamond, Allegheny. The overcoats and full dress or business suits offered at this establishment can be purchased no where else at cheaper prices.

For boys and youths the neatest and most suitable present would be a suit of Gray & Logan's neat and fashionable garments. No house in the West possess such an enviable fame as boys' clothiers as Gray & Logan's, and we urge upon all to call and examine their stock of the latest and most fashionable styles of boys' and youths' clothing. Their house is located at No. 47 St. Clair street.

Grossmayer & Co., the extensive and popular dealers in ready made clothing and gent's furnishing goods, No. 47 Fifth street, are prepared with an enormous stock, to meet the demand which may be made upon them by the purchasing community during the holidays. They have a large trade here, and by selling nothing but the very best quality of goods, have succeeded in building up a splendid reputation. Call in and see their stock.

Spices.

Mince pies are the natural attendants of Christmas and the holidays, and a demand arises for pure spices. Messrs. Strickler & Morledge sell at wholesale the very choicest spices used in this market. Their office and mill is located on Fifth St. Extension.

Scholarships.

If a young man or boy is to be made the recipient of a Christmas present, we can imagine nothing more sensible and appropriate than a scholarship in one of the commercial colleges in our midst. He will thus receive a present which will prove of incalculable benefit to him in after days. We regard the business colleges of this city second to no others in America, since they impart to the youth a sound, practical business education which can no where else be acquired. A scholarship in either of the following colleges would be quite acceptable to any sensible youth as a holiday gift:

Duff's Commercial College.
Iron City College.
N. Shafer's Business College.

Candies and Sweetmeats.

Mr. George Beaven, the prince of candy manufacturers in this neighborhood, announces that he is ready to supply everybody with the choicest sweetmeats made by himself and imported from foreign countries. Mr. Beaven's place of business is at 112 Federal street, Allegheny.

Tobacco Presents.

If the ladies knew how the gentlemen appreciate a box of fine cigars or a handsome meerschaum pipe, they would not hesitate in deciding upon presents. Our tobacco dealers have nearly all laid in an extra stock of holiday goods, and are prepared to supply any demand, no matter how great, which may be made upon them by the gift purchasing community. At the following most popular and reliable tobacco houses will be found the best stocks from which to select a box of Havanas, a merschaum pipe, a smoking tube, or anything else in the general tobacco line:

John Megraw, 45 Hand street.
George Blumenschien, 4 Seventh street.
R. B. Jeffries, 6 St. Clair street.
R. & W. Jenkinson, 6 Federal st., Allegheny.

Everything or Anything.

We do not know how to classify the immense establishment of T. A. M'Clelland, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street, unless it be under the significant head of anything or everything. Here will be found an enormous stock of boots, shoes and gaiters, house-furnishing goods, woolen made articles, blankets, clothing, carpets, muffs, victorines, fur collars and cuffs, fancy goods, cutlery, and every article we might mention. M'Clelland sells at less than Eastern auction prices, and always drives a heavy trade.

Visiting Cards.

A pack of the unequalled visiting cards of Mr. S. M. Ott, the well known engraver and die sinker, would prove very acceptable as a present. Mr. Ott has his rooms above Davis' book store, corner of Diamond alley and Wood street.

Perfumery.

Most of our druggists have received fresh stocks of the most fashionable and popular of foreign and American perfumeries, which they calculate to close out during the holidays. There is something decidedly neat and expressive in a present of this character and we are quite sure the reader will not overlook the fine perfumeries in selecting their gifts, especially if intended for the ladies. We commend the following well known and popular druggists to the patronage of the public.

Dr. Geo. H. Keyser, 140 Wood street.
Joseph Fleming, Diamond.
McClarran & McKennan, Diamond.
James T. Sample, corner Federal and Robinson streets, Allegheny.
Brown's new Drug Store, No. 8 St. Clair street.

Pianos, Melodeons, Organs, &c.

C. C. Mellor, Esq., the agent for Chickering & Sons' and Emerson's Pianos has received a new accession to his already large stock, and offers as fine an assortment of these famous instruments as can be found in any Eastern house. We will not enter into any discussion of the relative merits of the Chickering or Emerson Pianos, leaving it to our readers to determine their superiority or excellence. Mr. Mellor, at his rooms, 81 Wood street, has also a fine display of parlor organs, melodeons, violins and musical instruments of every description.

At the other music stores of the city will also be found full and desirable stocks of pianos, melodeons, organs and musical instruments of every description. Parties in search of elegant presents would do well to call in and examine the pianos for which they are agents. The following are the responsible and first class dealers:

C. C. Mellor & Co., 81 Wood street.
H. Kleber & Bro., 122 Wood street, near Fifth.
Barr, Knake & Buettler, 12 St. Clair street.
M'ss C. Blume, 43 Fifth street.
Hoffman, Hoene & Co., — Fifth street.

Books, Stationery, &c.

A book has, at all times, been regarded as a mental coin, which passes current in all circles of education and refinement. It is an appropriate article for a holiday present, and will be gratefully received by old and young, wise and giddy. In no branch of business have our merchants made greater preparation for the holidays, than have those engaged in the book trade. Their shelves are teeming with the choicest selections of the literature of the past and present, the works of the most distinguished authors and scholars. There will also be found at the book stores full assortments of choice stationery, writing desks, albums and other articles usually kept for sale in such establishments. We refer our readers to the well known houses of:

Henry Miner, 71 Fifth street.
John W. Pittock, opposite Pos'office.
Jas. H. Aiken, Chronicle building.
Mellwaine's Auction Rooms, Smithfield St.
Kay & Co., 55 Wood street.
E. A. Matson, 196 Smithfield street.
Myers, Schoyer & Co., No. 39 Fifth street.

Confectionaries, Toys &c.

George Beaven, No. 7 Federal street, Allegheny; Kinder Blair, 89 and 91 Federal street, Allegheny, and W. P. Hunker and Co., corner of Liberty and Sixth streets, announce a full assortment of confectionaries for the holidays. The former has a first class retail establishment in our sister city, while the latter monopolize a large share of the wholesale trade of the city. C. Yeager & Co., 110 Market street, announce a large stock of general fancy goods, toys &c. This has long been regarded as headquarters for holiday presents.

House Furnishing Goods.

At W. W. Bradshaw's extensive and beautiful salesrooms, No. 124 Wood street, a full line of house furnishing goods will be found. No where else in the city can such a varied selection of fine goods be found, nor is there a house furnishing establishment in the "hub" of Yankeedom which will eclipse in general excellence the house of Bradshaw. There are a thousand articles in this line of trade suitable for presents, and we advise husbands, fathers and others about making presents to favor Bradshaw's general houseware emporium with a call.

Skates.

A pair of rich and elegant skates are highly prized by the young folks in these days, when 'tis a disgrace for either sex to be unable to glide in graceful style over the smooth and tempting ice. Every body skates, and why should not every body have a good pair of skates! The best places we know of to purchase any description of skates are

James Bown, 136 Wood street;
W. N. Ogden, Dispatch Building, Fifth street;
Henry Miner, 71 Fifth street;
Palmer, Anshutz & Co., 61 Market street;
John W. Pittock, opposite the Postoffice;

Boots, Shoes and Gaiters.

The various houses engaged in this trade have made extensive arrangements to supply holiday customers. Their shelves and counters groan beneath the weight of extraordinarily heavy stocks, which were purchased during the recent heavy depression in the eastern markets. Nearly every body know the following houses, which deal extensively in the ready made shoe trade.

James Robb, 89 Market street;
Gardner's Opera House Shoe Store, Fifth st.
Palmer, Anshutz & Co., 61 market street;
Thomas H. Phelps, 46 Smithfield street;
McClintock's, 92 Federal st. (Allegheny.)
J. Wilhelm, 38 Market street;
J. H. & W. C. Borland, 98 Market street;
Henry Rhea, 285 Liberty street;
C. Fielding, 110 Ohio street, Allegheny.

Stereoscopes and Optical Goods.

A stereoscope is justly appreciated by all lovers of the beautiful. They can be obtained in all styles, from the most costly and elegant down to the plainest and most economical, at Haslett & Co's, Smithfield street, and J. Diamond's, St. Clair street. At both these establishments will be found also a full line of optical goods, such as gold and steel framed spectacles, eye-glasses, microscopes, telescopes, spy-glasses, &c., &c.

Spiritual Matters.

We never professed to be absolutely tetotallers, and are not prepared to say that a basket of wine or a package of "Old Monongahela" would prove unacceptable as a holiday present. McClarran & McKennan, Joseph Fleming and other druggists who advertise with us, keep the best and purest of liquors for sale. If the reader desires to purchase by the case, let him patronize the famous distillery of Joseph Finch, on Second street, or the well-known wholesale house of William Miller, 221 and 223 Second street. A barrel of Allen's celebrated refined cider would be a welcome guest in the house during the holidays. It is sold by Graff & Reiter, 215 Liberty street, who are the sole agents for its sale in this city.

Something to Eat.

During the holidays everybody feels like enjoying something good to eat, and consequently our first class dining rooms are continually thronged with patrons. We happen to know where the best meals can be obtained in the city, and the readers shall have the benefit of our knowledge. At the Continental Saloon, next door to the Postoffice, on Fifth street, Mr. William Holtzheimer proprietor, and at Vierheller's Broadway Restaurant, corner of Fifth and Smithfield streets, meals are served up every day, holiday or not, which would tempt the palate of a king. Both houses are eminently worthy of patronage and are conducted in the most orderly manner.

Furs.

The person of woman never looks so bewitchingly charming as when wrapped in a rich set of furs. They are becoming to all, the blonde or brunette, the old or the young. Some rare specimens cost sums of money which approach extravagance, but there are other styles which, though equally beautiful, can be purchased at the most reasonable prices. The finest assortment of the richest and most suitable of furs will be found at Hillerman's, 75 Wood street.

McCord & Co., 135 Wood street.
William Fleming, 139 Wood street.
Gunsenhauser & Co., 68 Market street,

Gents' Furnishing Goods.

Murdoch & Putnam have a fresh supply of scarfs, ties and bows, handkerchiefs, gloves, hosiery, fine shirts and collars, canes, &c., which they are selling at reduced prices during the holidays. Their establishment is located at No. 72 Fifth street.

Chandeliers, Lamps, &c.

Perhaps some may laugh at the suggestion of chandeliers, lamps and other articles in that line, as suitable articles for holiday gifts. Well they may do so, but it can be no harm to tell where they can be purchased to the best advantage, and where the best stocks may be found from which to make a selection. We take pleasure in recommending the following first class and responsible dealers to the patronage of our readers:

Weldon & Kelly, 164 Wood street.
Addy, Williams & Bartley, corner Sixth and Smithfield street.
Tom T. Ewens, 165 Wood street.
Herlehy & Johnson, Fifth street extension.
John Ross & Co., 64 Market street.
Tate & Seville, 227 Liberty street.
Arthur Kirk, Federal street, Allegheny.

Household Furniture.

Articles of furniture need no commendation from us as eminently suitable gifts. Everybody takes more or less pride in having his house appropriately, if not elegantly furnished. Nor can his stock of furniture be too large. His parlors, drawing rooms, chambers, dining rooms, and kitchens, like omnibuses, always have "room for one more"—addition to the furniture. No gift can be imagined which would prove more acceptable to a married friend than a piece of furniture. Dealers in this line of trade are numerous, and in order to point out where the best furniture may be obtained at the cheapest rates, we refer to two of the representative furniture houses of the city, Dauler, Close & Co., corner Penn and Wayne streets, and Myers, Hopper & Co., 45 Smithfield street.

A Fine Gold Pen.

The merchant could not make his clerk a more fitting testimonial of his regard for his services than by presenting him with one of those rich and durable gold pens, which are exclusively manufactured in this city by Fitzpatrick & Bro., Market street. Indeed, a gold pen such as they make, would be a suitable present for anybody.

Looking Glasses, &c.

At J. Lyons, 110 Wood street, and Barker & Hazeltines, corner of Fifth and Market streets will be found handsome and varied assortments of fine mirrors and looking glasses. Both houses also deal extensively in gilt, rosewood and walnut picture frames, which they suit to order.

General Sweetmeats.

Reymer & Bro., 126 and 128 Wood street, have in store the largest stock of foreign fruits and confectionaries, which can be found west of New York. They sell either retail or wholesale, and always drive an extraordinary business during the holidays.

Crackers and Confectionary.

Crackers are indispensible on the table at all seasons and more than indispensible during the good meals generally attending the holidays. Shephard, the steam cracker baker, has long monopolized nearly the entire trade of this section of country, manufacturing the very best crackers to be found in America. His prices are always most reasonable. A full and nicely assorted stock of confectionaries will also be found at his warerooms and bakery No. 317 Liberty street.

Tinware.

Mr. P. C. Duffey, No. 146 Grant street, exhibits just such a stock of stoves, tinware and fancy articles as will prove highly acceptable as gifts to present housewives. Give Mr. Duffey a call for anything in his line. He is a tip-top, practical mechanic and attends personally to all work entrusted to his care.

Cloaks, Coats, &c.

Where it is the universal fashion as here for ladies and misses to wear cloaks and coats, we can not think of any article of wearing apparel which would prove more acceptable as a gift to a lady friend. At Spence's Cloak Rooms, Market street, Gunsenhauser's Cloak rooms, No. 68 Market street, and at the dry goods stores of Bates & Bell, J. W. Barker & Co., and White, Orr & Co., will be found a most superb assortment.

Fine Pocket Cutlery.

It is a superstitious belief among many good christian folks that to present a piece of cutlery to a friend is a sure index of the dissolution of the existing friendship. Now if we thought there was any truth in the traditionary superstition we would at once purchase two dozen handsome knifes at W. N. Ogden's, Dispatch Building, Fifth street, at James Bown's, 136 Wood street, or F. Mussman's, Fifth, between Tunnel and Chatham streets, and present one to each of twenty-four quondam friends whom we desire to shake from ourself. Doubtless many of our readers feel just the same, and all such, or any other body who desires to purchase any article of fine cutlery, we refer to the well-known establishments mentioned.

Toys and Fancy Goods.

Thompson, No. 240 Liberty street, has a large stock of toys and general fancy goods, which would tempt old St. Nicholas himself. Parents take your children to see Thompson's great display.

Portfolios, Wallets, &c., &c.

At W. S. Haven's, corner Third and Wood street, will be found a rare assortment of stationery, embracing all articles usually kept in similar first class houses. Gold pens, cases, writing desks, portfolios, wallets, fancy cards, letter paper, envelopes, &c., will be found here at the most reasonable prices. For any and everything in this line give Mr. Haven a call.

Carpets.

Our wives always have a weakness for new carpets, and we do not know but what a sufficient number of yards of English Brussels or Velvet carpets to cover the parlor floor anew, might be regarded as a highly sensible present. McFarland, Collins & Co., 71 and 73 Fifth street, have as fine an assortment as can be found in the city, and their prices are reasonable. Call in and see their stock.

Groceries.

Barcus & Graff, retail grocers, 96 Liberty street, have laid in a superior stock of choice fresh groceries, which they will dispose of at their usually cheap prices. Everybody living in that neighborhood, at least, understand why it is their policy to favor this young and enterprising firm with their patronage.

CONCLUSION.

We conclude by modestly advancing the fair claims of the GAZETTE as an advertising medium, and earnestly wishing one and all, advertisers and readers, A HAPPY CHRISTMAS and a merry NEW YEAR.

Low Priced and Good—The Emerson Piano.

To meet the wants of the great number of persons who desire to possess a piano, but do not feel able to go to the expense of the costliest make, and yet would have only a good substantial one, we have made a most careful examination of all the lowest priced pianos made in the United States. The result of this examination is that we have found those made by W. P. Emerson, to be the best pianos for the price, and the cheapest good pianos that are made. They are most substantially built, on the soundest acoustic principals; the wood is the best quality properly seasoned; the tone rich and powerful, and the touch easy and elastic; each one is provided with the the full iron frame, and overstrung bass. They stand well in tune and wear well in every particular; this we know from actual experience. The difference in price between the Emerson Piano, and the more costly makes, is caused by the most rigid economy in the manufacture consistent with excellence, and by a saving of labor on those parts, which neither effect the tone or durability. We do not pretend that the "Emerson" is the lowest priced piano made; many can be bought at a less price. Such pianos we do not keep, having found by our own and others experience that being so poorly made they soon give way, lose their tone, become harsh and discordant, and give no satisfaction to the owner, but are a constant source of expense and annoyance. A piano of this kind is a bad investment, and really the dearest piano any one can buy. We do not and will not keep them for sale. Finding the "Emerson" such a desirable piano, we at once secured the exclusive agency for them for Pittsburgh and surrounding country, and having made special contracts for a regular weekly supply for a long time to come, we can offer them at unusually advantageous rates. All persons desiring the best cheap piano in the market, should not fail to examine the "Emerson" before purchasing any other kind. Liberal discount to clergymen, teachers and cash customers. Charles C. Mellor & Co., 81 Wood street, Pittsburgh. MWY

The Question of the Eligibility of Sheriff Cluley—Proceedings in Court.

In the Court of Common Pleas, on Saturday morning, before his Honor Judge Mellon, the question of the eligibility of S. B. Cluley, Esq., to the office of Sheriff of Allegheny county, was brought to the notice of the Court through counsel, by Mr. Cluley's late competitor before the people, J. Y. McLaughlin, Esq. Messrs. James K. Kerr and R. Biddle Roberts, Esqs., counsel for Mr. McLaughlin, filed in Court the affidavit of the claimant, setting forth that Samuel B. Cluley, since the fifth day of December last, has exercised, and still exercises, the functions, rights and privileges, and receives the fees, perquisites and emoluments of High Sheriff of the county of Allegheny, without lawful authority. The affidavit then recites the fact of the election of S. B. Cluley, in October last, and refers to the commission issued by the Governor on the 12th day of November, 1866, to Mr. Cluley as High Sheriff, notwithstanding the fact that the said S. B. Cluley had been commissioned as Sheriff of Allegheny county on the 28th of August, 1863, and had discharged the duties of the office from that time until the first Monday of December, 1863, and could not therefore lawfully be commissioned Sheriff of said county twice in any term of six years, because it would be in violation of the 6th article, 1st section, of the Constitution of Pennsylvania. The affidavit further sets forth that these constitutional provisions have been disregarded by the issue of the commission to S. B. Cluley, and that he therefore usurps, and unlawfully holds and exercises the rights and privileges and receives the fees and perquisites of the office, to the damage and prejudice of the Constitution and laws of the commonwealth. The affidavit, or relator for the commonwealth, therefore prays for due process of law, against S. B. Cluley, in this behalf, to answer to the commonwealth, by what warrant he claims to have, use and enjoy the franchises, rights and privileges of the office.

On the presentation of the affidavits the Court granted a rule on Sheriff S. B. Cluney, returnable on the fourth Monday of January next, to show cause why a writ quo warranto should not issue against him, and to show by what authority he exerecises the office of High Sheriff of Allegheny county.

The main question involved in this contest has been heretofore judicially determined, in a case arising in Westmoreland county, adversely to the point raised by Mr. McLaughlin. We have no doubt that Sheriff Cluley will retain possession of his office until the term for which he was elected expires.

At all events, Murphy says so. The latter was natually put out at being so summarily ejected, and stated the case to Alderman Strain. A warrant was issued.

THE RIGHTS OF WAR.

When the Boston Post decides that "making Territories of States" is "a revolutionary measure," we are not disposed to dissent from its judgment; but, when it goes on to assert that "THADDEUS STEVENS is the father of this measure," we do not concur, unless the imputation is used in a sense so restricted as to deprive it of purgency. Who opened the door for "revolutionary measures?" Nay, made such measures indispensable to the life of the nation and the proper security of personal liberty? When eleven States rushed into rebellion they well understood what chances they invoked, and what hazards they incurred. They did not consider it possible to so order matters that, being successful, they should force a solution by arms upon the loyal people and States, and, being defeated, should reserve all legal rights and remedies for their own advantage. War is not a one-sided affair. In it there are blows to take, as well as blows to give. It pays little heed to those microscopic distinctions with which lawyers are prone to puzzle their wits.

When the Confederate armies surrendered, all of the eleven revolted States became "conquered territories." Much of domain included within their respective boundaries had been conquered long before. The people of those States had no other conception of the situation, for none other was admissible. It would be absurd for a horse thief to imagine that by surrendering to the Sheriff he avoided the penalties consequent on his crime. A thief, with only sense enough to make him responsible for larceny, would naturally infer that by surrendering he would be in a way certainly to get his deserts. This was precisely the expectation of the rebels when their means of resistance gave out and they succumbed. For a while, they were ready to assent to any conditions their conquerors should impose. Some of their northern sympathizers, who had defended the rights of secession, both as natural and constitutional, began parading sophistical arguments to demonstrate that secession was impossible, and, being so, that no forfeiture of rights had been incurred. The rebels took the hint, and soon grew arrogant. Instead of supplicating, they made demands. Instead of accepting thankfully the magnanimity of the government, they undertook conspicuously at Memphis, New Orleans, and elsewhere to crush out, by the most sanguinary measures, all the genuine friends of the Union they could lay murderous hands upon.

This change of demeanor wrought a corresponding alteration in the temper of the Northern populations. Thoughts of lenity, impulses of compassion, and dispositions to cover the past with the mantle of oblivion, were put aside, not willingly, but because some degree of severity seemed necessary to preserve order, to ensure tranquility, to maintain the just authority of the laws, and render free institutions permanent. The idea of regarding the revolted States as "conquered territories," as rightful spoils of war, is not only logical, but is forced upon the acceptance of millions whose benevolent sentiments make them loth to press advantages against a fallen enemy. So, too, intelligent foreigners, who, at first, thought the government ought to treat the rebellion as a wild escapade, the result of exuberant youth and vigor, are taking soberer views of the situation.

The London Times, enlightened by the sojourn of its chief proprietor in this country, recants its former position, and asserts the rights the federal government has acquired under the laws of war. It says, "It is a simple fact that the land south of Mason and Dixon's line, once parceled out into States, forming parts of the Union, is now a conquered territory, lying in the hands of the conquerers, and awaiting their disposition of it anew." If it were not so, the Times argues, it would have been impossible to carve Western Virginia out of the Old Dominion." Having made this broad assertion, the writer then declares that "South Carolina is now nothing more than a geographical expression." The continuity of the life of each Southern Commonwealth is absolutely broken, and when South Carolina comes it must come just as Utah or Idaho might be admitted. It must start afresh, and President and Congress have just the same liberty—in determining when and under what conditions it shall start afresh—as in determining when and under what conditions Utah shall be entitled to become a member of the Union." To this it adds, by way of advice, "It will, no doubt, be wise in admitting into the Federal Union, States from the South, to adhere to the old boundaries; but there is no compulsion to do so."

To this general treatment of the case American statesmen are rapidly gravitating. This is the meaning of Mr. STEVENS' bill to organize North Carolina as a Territory, and of Mr. JULIAN's bill to erect territorial governments for each of the seceding States. Whether either of these measures will actually prevail will depend upon the conduct of the Southern people. Mr. WADE, and not a few with him, incline to the prompt readmission of the Southern States so soon as they shall respectively ratify the Constitutional Amendment. But, in assuming this position they clearly recognize the fact that those States are "conquored territories," and that conditions may consequently be imposed on them now to which they could not be made to submit but for their participation in the revolt. If either of the revolted States shall refuse or fail to adopt the amendment, it follows that Mr. WADE and those who concur with him, will be prepared to use the rights acquired by war to any extent that may be requisite. Mr. SUMNER, on the other hand, shows a disposition not to let any of the insurgent States off upon consenting to the Amendment. There is no difference here, in principle, between Mr. WADE and Mr. SUMNER, but only a difference as to the extent to which the principle shall be pressed.

◆

THE Committee of the American Tract Society, unable to meet the constant demands made on them from all parts of the country, issued an appeal a few weeks since for a publication fund of $100,000, on condition that $50,000 be raised before January 1st, 1867. Of this amount $40,000 has been subscribed, leaving $10,000 to be secured during the coming week. A benevolent banker in Philadelphia offers to be one of ten to give the $10,000.

EDITORIAL BREVITIES.

John George Ryan is the name of the fellow who edits the Indicator at Pine Bluffs, Arkansas. He gives the following as a specimen brick to gain patronage and support of the reconstructed rebels of the South:

"I am not inclined to be an assassin, but, if to destroy a tyrant is assassination, then I would destroy the tyrant. As it has been proved, President Lincoln was the elected head and voluntary servant of the Radicals, who purposed the destruction of the South, and, in a measure, succeeded in their hellish designs. I was opposed to, and fought against Lincoln and his tyrants, and ever will. When the news of his death reached me, I rejoiced. When I learned that a man who never identified himself with the Confederate cause, struck the tyrant blow, I thanked God that he had selected an instrument, from the heart of radicalism, right under the tyrant's guns, to deprive America of a Radical tool.

"And when I laid down my arms, after a bloody struggle for independence, I thanked God from the fullness of my heart, that Abraham Lincoln did not live to mock our misery."

We ask in the name of common decency if such a vile traitor should be permitted to again take a seat in the councils of the nation?

THE press in England make considerable ado about the election to Parliament of a Mr. Kavenaugh, who has neither arms nor legs. We have seen stranger things here. Men without brains have been chosen to more important positions.

A letter to the Boston Journal from Washington says:

"A quiet, but well organized move is being made to bring out Mr. Colfax as a Republican candidate for President, with Senator Howard, of Michigan, as Vice President."

ILLICIT distillers of spirits continue to be turned up by Government detectives in New York and Brooklyn. It would be consoling if we knew that they were as certain of punishment as the whiskies they turned out.

Stoves have been successfully introduced into the street cars in many of the neighboring cities. We do not see why some of our enterprising companies do not follow the good example.

A COUPLE of thieves have been arrested at Jeffersonville, Ky., for robbing the Penitentiary. In all probability the future will show that they have stolen from their own residences.

MR. THOMAS PARROT started from Texas with four hundred horses to drive to Kentucky, on speculation. Two hundred were taken on sight—by thieves on the roadside.

A PRISONER, while being tried in a New York city court for the larceny of a large sum of money, managed to make his escape.

THE GREAT MEDICAL ANNUAL—Hostetter's United States Almanac for 1867, for distribution, GRATIS, throughout the United States and all civilized countries of the Western Hemisphere, will be published about the first of January, and all who wish to understand the true philosophy of health should read and ponder the valuable suggestions it contains. In addition to an admirable medical treatise on the causes, prevention and cure of a great variety of diseases, it embraces a large amount of information interesting to the merchant, the mechanic, the miner, the farmer, and professional man; and the calculations have been made for such meridians and latitudes as are most suitable for a correct and comprehensive NATIONAL CALENDAR.

The nature, uses, and extraordinary sanitary effects of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, the staple tonic and alterative of more than half the Christian world are fully set forth in its pages, which are also interspersed with valuable recipes, humorous anecdotes, and other instructive and amusing reading matter, original and selected. Among the Annuals to appear with the opening of the year, this will be one of the most useful, and MAY BE HAD FOR THE ASKING. Send for copies to the Central Manufactory, at Pittsburgh, Pa., or to the nearest agent for HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. The Bitters are sold in every city, town and village of the United States.

CHRISTMAS & NEW YEAR'S PRESENTS.

WE ARE NOW RECEIVING OUR Holiday Stock of
CHICKERING & SONS'
PIANOS,
W. P. EMERSON'S PIANOS,
AND
Mason & Hamlin's
CABINET ORGANS,
Which will be the Finest Collection of these Instruments ever Exhibited in this City.

THE GREAT
CHICKERING PIANOS,
Which have been before the public for nearly half a century, still maintain their supremacy, being the Piano always used by the world's great artists and our best amateurs, as well as our own music-loving citizens. The fact that over
2,000 CHICKERING PIANOS
Have been sold at this Agency, is proof positive of the high estimation in which they are held by our citizens. So great is the demand all over the country for the Chickering Pianos, that it is an impossibility to fill orders with any degree of promptness, and it is only by a very especial favor of the manufacturers that we have secured the present superb lot for the Holidays, which will be constantly arriving from now to the 20th inst., and comprises the choicest styles that are made.
Prices Same as at the Factory.

The Unapproachable
EMERSON PIANOS,
The Cheapest Good Piano Made.
The Emerson Piano supplies a long and severely felt want—that is, a good, well-made, fine toned, and lasting instrument at a moderate price. They are made of the most thoroughly seasoned wood, after the most approved scales by a scientific manufacturer; have over-strung bass, felt hammers, iron frame, and all modern improvements. The furniture is of chaste and elegant design, finished in best rosewood, finely varnished and polished. The great success we have had with the Emerson Pianos is due to their great merits. The public having given them a trial, has found they are worthy of confidence, and are buying as fast as we can get them from the factory.
Prices about One-Half what is asked for the most renowned makes,
WE WARRANT THEM FOR FIVE YEARS.

THE SWEET-TONED
Mason & Hamlin
CABINET ORGAN,
The Most Perfect Instrument Ever Made.
That should, and SURELY will be found in every Church, Sabbath School, Drawing Room, and Parlor, being alike suitable for Sacred or Secular, vocal or Instrumental, Quick or Slow Music. To bridge them WITHIN THE REACH OF EVERYBODY, M. & H. now make them as low as $75, and their list comprises over THIRTY different styles, ranging from $75 to $1,000, all of which can be found in our rooms, and may be purchased at the Same Price as at the Factory.

WE WANT to do the largest Holiday trade this season ever done during our long established business, and we know we can only do so by offering great inducements, which we do, as our stock is unusually large, and we have cut down prices to the very lowest figures. We hope to have all the public call at our rooms, whether they want to buy or not, and we shall be happy to show them our entire stock.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Another County Robbery.

The thieves seem to be taking the State by counties. The following is from the Easton Free Press:

When the Court house, situated in the vicinity of our borough, was opened this morning by the janitor, he found that some one had been there since he had been gone the night before. He found the back door to the hall open, the screws having been driven in, and the lock forced off. On examination it was found that the offices of the Commissioners, of Theodore Robison, Esq., Clerk of the Court of Quarter Sessions, and of John J. Unangst, County Treasurer, had been, each in turn, visited. The burglars must have been provided with all possible appliances, and patent contrivances, as they did their work in a scientific and workmanlike manner. The doors of each of the offices were forced open by boring a hole diagonally through the jam of the door, and then, with an iron instrument, forced open the door. In the office of Mr. Robison all the desk drawers were opened and the contents scattered over the floor, but as far as learned nothing of value taken. The burglars left behind them in this office a large number of cigar stumps, and a piece of partially burned fuse sticking in the key hole of the safe. Otherwise the safe was not disturbed.

In the Commissioner's office, the door was forced open the same as the Clerk's office; then all the drawers were opened, in one of which the keys of the safe were found; the safe was then visited and thoroughly ransacked, but the explorers found but little booty. They carried away some shirts, a pair of pants, a vest and some stockings, which Mr. Leith had purchased at the store of Cheap John, and had not yet taken them home. They also forced open a tin box which he had in the safe, and succeeded in getting $1 25 in silver.

In the Treasurer's office, after having gone through with the drawers and desk, they made a breach in the wall of the vault, near the door; a hole was made through the wall, about nine inches thick, large enough to admit a man's arm. The lock was blown open with gunpowder, and an entrance effected. The vault was thoroughly searched, and the papers and books, orders, &c., scattered all over the floor. A tin box belonging to Mr. Unangst was forced open but nothing of value found therein. The burglars found in a pocket book behind some old books, a lot of money belonging to Mr. Unangst, amounting to about $300. Part of this is in checks, payment of which have been stopped. The burglars came well prepared and did up their business leisurely, one of them even going so far as to commit a nuisance in the hall. No clue has been obtained as to the robbers.

Man Drowned.

The New Philadelphia (O.) Chronicle thus mentions the drowning of a man at Canal Dover: At this time, some persons who were at work in or around the slaughter house of Messrs. Burnet& Steese, had their attention attracted towards the river by cries of "Help!" Looking in the direction from whence the cry proceeded, they beheld a man struggling in the water and vainly endeavoring to cling to the ice surrounding the middle pier of the old railroad bridge. In his frequent and excited attempts to grasp the brittle ice, it as frequently broke in his hand, making his hold thereon of no service to him. The last they saw of him, he was swimming down the stream, making every possible effort to keep himself afloat, and loudly screaming for help. In response to his cries, he was advised to swim to the side, and those on shore would rescue him. Whether he comprehended what they shouted to him, or whether their advise was impracticable, cannot be told. There was a sheet of ice thirty feet wide, or nearly so, projecting into the stream from eithet bank, and it might be surmised that if he had his senses about him, he would avoid coming in contact with it, as it had before proven so treacherous. However, conjecture what we will, all we can say of him is, that he went down, never to rise a living man.

Strange Security.

We find the following queer transaction in the Columbus Journal: Yesterday an odd transaction was brought to the notice of the city authorities in a very peculiar manner. Some one entered complaint against a woman who had been employed as a seamstress or embroiderer at different times, in several families, charging that said woman had appropriated certain articles not belonging to her. The complaining party was advised to learn the whereabouts of the woman before preferring the charge formally. In a short time it was reported that the boarding place of the woman had been discovered, that although she was not there and had not paid her board, yet she had left her child as surety that the latter would be paid, add that she would return. The officials were a little puzzled as to what kind of "security" to name said little piece of humanity, and were unable to determine just how secure the "security", made for the mother's board bill, and so the case was dismissed.

Young Lady Missing.

The Honesdale Republican give the following announcement: Miss Marcella Simons, of Hawley, aged about seventeen years, has been missing since the night of the 5th. She was a milliner, and had been at work for Mrs. Jas. Dunlop all that day, quitting at six o'clock, and starting for home. Not making her appearance that night or the next morning, her friends became alarmed, instituted inquiries, and dragged the river and canal, but without gaining any knowledge in regard to her whereabouts then or since. The general impression in Hawley is that in crossing the Middle Creek bridge, which is without sufficient protection, she missed her way, fell into the water, and was carried down by the swift current. She was of American descent, and bore a most excellent character.

A Troublesome Hand.

The Steubenville Herald says: A gentlemanly looking man dropped into the jewelry store of Oliver Dunbar, corner of Fourth and Market streets, yesterday, and asked to look at his stock of gold watches. While Dunbar's attention was called to another part of the store, the stranger "confiscated" one of the best watches. Dunbar accused him of the act—he denied, but when told that he would call the police, the stranger made the discovery that the watch had got into one of his pockets, accidentally, sticking to his hand as he put it into one of his pockets to pull out a handful of chestnuts. The stranger may be an honest man, but he has a very "sticky" hand, which if he does not keep a close surveilance over, will get him into trouble, if not into the penitentiary.

Accident.

The Columbus Journal records the following narrow escape from a serious accident: The yard engine at the depot, with freight cars attached, yesterday collided with a street car, at the first crossing, on High street. The locomotive was backing up from the west, pushing a detached freight car in front. The driver of the street car miscalculated the speed of the approaching cars, and attempted to cross before them. The street car was struck just as it was fairly on the track of the other, the side broken in, one wheel crushed, and the car itself thrown entirely from the track. There was one passenger in the car, who escaped uninjured.

Attempt to Commit Rape.

We take the following from the New Philadelphia Chronicle: "One day last week, while a couple of little girls, aged respectively ten and twelve years, were returning to this place from Canal Dover, they were met by a young man on horseback. The scoundrel immediately dismounted, took after the little girls, caught one of them, and attempted to violate her person. The other little girl screamed—a man was seen approaching—when the rascal took to his horse, rode off, and has not been captured. From the description given, the officers have not been able to identify the scoudnrel.

Accident at Wheeling.

The Wheeling Intelligencer gives the following: We are called upon to record a fearful and humiliating accident to one of Sheriff Seybold's efficient deputies. As the gentleman was entering the court-room, yesterday morning, his foot slipped and he immediately assumed the attitude of a boy learning to swim. Sympathizing friends at once gathered round the prostrate sheriff and assisted him to rise. Careful examination revealed the fact that no bones were broken, and some irreverent parties showing signs of incipient laughter, the gentleman made haste to proclaim "silence in the court."

Strange Accident.

The Reading Dispatch says: One night last week, some thief or thieves broke open the smoke house of Mr. Harry Knause, residing in Hamburg, Berks county, and stole a lot of sausage. Mr. K., in order to catch the thief, put some more sausage in the smoke house, and placed a loaded gun in such a position that if the door was opened the gun would be discharged. Yesterday morning Mr. Knause visited the smoke house for the purpose of taking out some sausage, and forgetting that he had placed the gun there, the piece was discharged, the load entering his side, from the effects of which he died at four o'clock the same afternoon.

Body Found.

The Allentown Democrat gives the following: On Monday morning last the body of an unknown man was found drowned in the Lehigh, near Wheeler's Lock. The remains were frozen so stiff that they allowed of being stood up erect. On Saturday evening two of the laborers on the new Bridge at this place started from their boarding house up the river to cross in a small boat, since which time they have not been seen, and the fact that a small boat was found upside down in the stream on Monday morning, leads to the supposition that they were drowned, and that the man found may have been one of the party.

The Greene County Robbery.—Wm. and George Scott, charged with the robbery of the safe belonging to the Adams' Express Company, in Greensboro, Greene county, as we have already reported, were placed on trial last week in the Greene county court, and considerable testimony taken in the case. Alderman John A. Strain, officer Seth Wilmot and others, from this city, were important witnesses in this suit. Owing to the absence of some important witnesses, the case was continued until the March term of the court, when it will be concluded.

Mad Dogs.—The Bucks county Intelligencer says: The mad dog excitement about New Britain, to which reference was made last week, had not subsided at last accounts. Among the dogs bitten by the supposed rabid animal was one belonging to William Godshalk, of Doylestown township. We regret to learn that Mr. Godshalk was afterwards bitten on the hand by his own dog. We have not learned that any of the dogs that were bitten have gone mad.

FOR SALE—400 Acres of Coal Land, lying immediately upon the Ohio River, 20 miles below Gallipolis, and 185 miles above Cincinnati. On the above tract is a four foot vein of Coal, which, for general purposes, is not surpassed. It is entirely different from the Southern Ohio Coal; contains but little sulphur, forges and cokes well, and for making steam cannot be excelled. The location being about midway from Pomeroy and Hanging Rock, must make it valuable for coaling boats. There is a water front of ¾ of a mile, with a good landing at all stages of the river. An entrance has been run in the hill about 300 feet, track finished to river, together with the necessary fixtures for mining and delivering coal afloat. On said tract is first-class double Portable Circular Saw Mill together with a Portable Grist Mill, all in good running order, and plenty of the very best oak, ash and poplar timber. Would sell one-half interest if desired, to a party with experience and capital for working same. JOHN D. BAILEY,

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

A Singular Case.

Between one and two o'clock on Saturday morning, a man dressed partially in Uncle Sam's blue, knocked at the outer gate of the watch-house and was admitted. No officer accompanied him, and he was evidently only one of the multitude of homeless ones who nightly hy for lodgings at Captain Lewis' generous fireside. The usual questions were put to him, but were met with utter silence. At last the individual announced, by motions, that he required pencil and paper. These were given him and he wrote that he had just arrived in the city, had no money and no friends, and desired to remain over night at the watch-house. In answer to a written question as to his name, he wrote that it was Joseph Vanotto, of the 12th Ohio Volunteers. A deaf and dumb soldier was something out of the ordinary run, and he wrote, in explanation, that he was sound and in possession of all his faculties when he entered the service, but that, at the battle of Fisher's Hill, he had been made deaf and dumb. He also showed an eye that was blinded in that battle, and a leg that was badly scarred. If his story be true his is a singular case. We have often known soldiers who were made deaf and dumb in battle, but they were never able to write afterwards, or to see with even one eye. We do not remember, however, to have met before, a man who had lost the faculties both of speech and hearing, by injuries received in battle, while he still retained his other powers. The unfortunate man received permission to remain, and forthwith proceeded to prove his soldierly antecedents by pulling off his coat, folding it as a pillow, and stretching himself out comfortably on the floor behind the stove, without waiting for a vacancy to occur on one of the benches. He remained until daylight, when he took his departure, intending, as he wrote, to make his way to the Soldiers' Home in Columbus.

Attempted Rape.

On Saturday, Lieutenant Wilson, of the Special Police, arrested Michael McNamora on a charge of assault and battery with intent to commit a rape. The alleged assault was committed in Manchester, on the 28th of November, on the person of Mary Dwyer. The attempt was successfully resisted, and Miss Dwyer escaped from her assailant. Information was promptly made, but the accused made good his escape. He had been employed as "wiper" at the round-house of the Pittsburgh and Cleveland Railroad, and had money due him at that place. On Saturday he ventured to return to the round-house to collect his money. Lieutenant Wilson saw him and "went for" him. The prisoner was taken before Mayor McCarthy, and in default of $3,000 was committed to jail to await a hearing on the 29th inst at 10 o'clock a. m.

Let it Become a Law.

The Grand Jury in its recent presentment made an excellent suggestion that provision be made for the election of an Assistant District Attorney, to be chosen at the same time as the District Attorney is elected. The great number of cases which come up before the Grand Jury in a county so large and numerously populated as our own, seems to render the creation of this new office a matter of immediate necessity. Hitherto the appointment of an assistant has been in the hands of the District Attorney and purely optional with him to do so or not. The new law would elect as assistant a legal gentleman with fully as much ability as the chief officer, and as his duties would be fully described matters would be considerably expedited. We hope the suggestion may not end with the presentment of the jury.

Another Insane Man in the Lock-up.

Yesterday afternoon officers Peter Dressler and George Garrison brought to the lock-up for safe-keeping, a man named John Coleman, who was very evidently insane. Coleman had gone into a house on the corner of Perry street and Cecil alley, where he formerly boarded, and there began to act in so strange and erratic a manner that the people became alarmed, and called in the officers. Coleman now resides in Allegheny. His friends say that they had never once seen him intoxicated, and so are certain that his complaint is not mania a potu. The attack seems to have come upon him suddenly, and it is suspected that, on Saturday night, he was with parties who suspected that he had money and gave him drink that had been drugged. When he was brought to the lock-up he had in his possession upwards of $40.

Personal.

Governor Curtin has appointed Major Wm. Frew, of this city, as a Commissioner from Pennsylvania to the Paris Universal Exposition. Mr. Frew is now making a European tour, and proposes to be in Paris at the opening of the Exposition.

Mr. H. G. Squires, the new and very popular Principal of the Ninth ward public schools, has been presented with a splendid marble-top table by the pupils of the school.

The President of the Ladies' Committee of Boys in Blue requests that each church in the city send two lady delegates to the meeting of the committee to be held on Thursday afternoon next.

Lutheran Church Trouble.

The trouble in the First Evangelical Lutheran Church, of this city, is still before the District Court. On Saturday, the motion for a preliminary injunction against J. S. Newmeyer, Adam Weaver and others, restraining them from further interference with the church building on Seventh street, was concluded by Judge Lowrie for the respondents, and J. I. Kuhn, Esq., for defendants. The papers in the cases were taken in charge by the court, and a decision will probably be rendered in a few days.

The Royal Bohemian Glass Blowers open to-night at Masonic Hall, and we have no doubt to a full house. This wonderful troupe performed here some time since, and many of our readers will remember their entertainment with pleasure, and be glad of an opportunity of witnessing the unique and surprising exhibition again. To the young folks, especially, it is a great marvel. The wonderful glass steam engine, "Fairy Queen," is of itself a sufficient curiosity to draw a crowd; but added to this are the extraordinary artistic performances of the troupe of Glass Blowers, who exhibit a skill surpassingly great in the manufacture of numberless fancy articles from glass, which are all distributed to the audience gratis. Go and see them.

Matinee to-morrow (Christmas) at 2 o'clock P. M. A splendid chance for the little ones.

Valuable Testimonial.—Four boys, pupils of the Colored Public Schools in Allegheny, presented the Principal, S. A. Neale, a valuable gold-headed cane, on Friday afternoon, at the close of the quarterly examination. The names of the boys are Edward Butler, James Strickland, George Parr and Thomas Hughes. Each made a very neat presentation speech. A fitting response was made by the Principal. The boys are residents of Pittsburgh, but have obtained special premits from the members of the Board of Control, to attend the Public Colored Schools in Allegheny. They have all attained a high degree of eminence at this institution of learning.

The Gideon Brass and String Bands will to-night entertain visitors to the Fair in Excelsior Hall, Allegheny, with choice music, which, together with the goods to be offered for sale will render the occasion an interesting one. The sale of goods during last week, though large, was not sufficient to close out the vast stock of goods provided, and the necessity has arisen of extending the time. It is probable, therefore, to continue till Wednesday evening, December 26, when goods unsold will be disposed of at public sale. The price of admission has been reduced to fifteen cents.

Christmas Purchases.—Any one who desires to purchase Christmas presents, but has delayed it too long, can have the opportunity, even at the eleventh hour, by calling at the trimming store of Macrum & Glyde, Nos. 78 and 80 Market street. This place will be kept open until eleven o'clock to-morrow (Christmas) morning. Perhaps any one purchasing there will even be glad that by delay they have been led to call there, for we can assure our readers that no finer stock of Christmas gifts is anywhere to be found than at the celebrated trimming store of Macrum & Glyde.

Buggy Stealing.—A warrant was issued by Alderman Strain on Saturday last for the arrest of Henry House, charged with larceny, on oath of Frank Bissonet, of Lower St. Clair township. It is alleged that, on the 10th of May last the accused stole from the premises of Withrop Douglas, in Lower St. Clair township, an open buggy valued at $200, and four silver bands, valued at $2,50 each. The stolen articles belonged to D. D. Donaldson and Joseph Hughey.

Will Remain Open.—The rooms of the Public Catholic Library Association will be kept open for the inspection of the public, all day on Christmas and New Years. The rooms are located on the corner of Logan alley and Wood street, in the Third National Bank building.

Released.—James M'Candless, committed by Alderman Morrow on a charge of false pretences, obtained bail and was released.

A Clothes Bargain brought to a Close.

Robert Keating, from the country, made information on Saturday, before Alderman Donaldson, charging Isaac Lehman, a Hebrew clothing dealer, doing business on St. Clair street, with assault and battery and trover and conversion. The deponent alleges that on Saturday he entered the store of Lehman and tried on a coat. The coat fitted and he concluded to take it. Without paying for it he left it and his carpet sack at the store and went across the street to a rival establishment to purchase pants and vest. The proprietor of this store offered a suit at much lower figures than Lehman had done, and Keating purchased a full suit. With it he went back to Lehman's to get his carpet sack. Lehman refused to let the baggage go until he had received pay for the coat, insisting that Keating had fairly bought the garment. When the latter tried to get possession of the bag, he alleges that Lehman repulsed him violently and still retained the sack. Information was therefore made and Lehman arrested. The latter immediately made information against his accuser for surety of the peace. The parties, however, adjusted the matter to mutual satisfaction and the case was settled by each party paying half the costs.

Highway Robbery.

At a late hour on Friday night a man named Hachell went into a saloon near the corner of Penn and Canal streets. During his stay he revealed a considerable amount of money in his possession, and on leaving the saloon he was followed out by two men. These men followed him a short distance down Penn street when they attacked him, knocking him down, beating him and "going through" him, although in a hurried and bungling manner. They secured $15 in money and had hold of his watch, but by means of stout resistance he succeeded in retaining possession of the latter. The noise of the scuffle and the outcry attracted some persons near, and on their approach the two highwaymen fled. The victim started on his way again, but had gone but a short time when he was somewhat overcome by his excitement and the injuries received. His appearance led an officer to suppose him intoxicated, and he was arrested and taken to the lock-up. There he told his story and was released. The injuries he received were quite severe. The two robbers were recognized by those who came to the rescue and are well known to the police. Probably they will soon be arrested.

Another Servant Girl Robbery.

Lucinda Patridge was informed against before Alderman Strain on Saturday morning, charged, on the oath of Mrs. J. G. Jackson, with larceny. The accused was employed in the family of Mrs. Jackson in the capacity of servant, and was left at the residence of that lady, on River avenue, Allegheny, while the family were on a protracted tour, in September last. During this time, as is alleged, the dishonest damsel "appropriated" the following articles: Five and a half yards of pillow-case linen, fourteen pairs of colored kid gloves, one pair of white kids, two pairs of buff driving gloves, one hair switch, one woolen imitation crochet shawl, one door key, one night latch key, and an unlimited number of handkerchiefs and napkins. The stealings were probably carried on during a considerable period. At all events they were effected, and a warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused Patridge. When the bird is captured, her guilt or innocence will be ascertained.

Interfering With an Officer.

On Saturday George Crouch, a constable in McCandless township, came before Alderman Strain and made two informations, the first charging John Kneder and his wife Sarah with felonious assault and battery, and the other charging the same parties, together with John Moore, John Stephens, James Morrow and James Stoughton with obstructing a legal process. It appears from the information that, on the 10th inst., the deponent had possession of a writ issued by Justice Wm. Lyons, of Ohio township, to be served on Knoder, who is a resident of that township. On attempting to serve it he was forcibly resisted by the parties named in the second information, and Knoder himself went so far as to present a loaded gun at the officer's head, and that subsequently he handed the weapon to his wife, who also handled it in a threatening manner. Hence the information for felonious assault and battery. Warrants were issued.

Released.

Andrew McGuffy, the man whom we have several times mentioned as being confined in the lock-up, while laboring under an attack of the mania a potu, was yesterday morning released and given into the charge of his son, who arrived here from Columbiana county, Ohio, at a late hour on Saturday night. A friend of the family, living in Allegheny, learned through the papers of Mr. McGuffy's confinement, and telegraphed to his family in Ohio. At the time of his release Mr. McG. was very much better, but still not quite recovered. He still insists that on his first arrival here he was drugged by persons who endeavored to rob and murder him. He will be taken home to-day.

Brass Finishers' Ball.—On Friday night, December 28th, the brass finishers and gas fitters of the city and vicinity are to give a ball at Ashland Hall, on Wylie street, for the benefit of Mr. Jas. McSteen, an invalid member of their fraternity. Mr. McSteen is a very deserving man, and should receive a full benefit. Tickets are one dollar.

Grand Ball.—A grand ball will be held to morrow at the beautiful new Ashland Hall, Wylie street, near Fifth street. From the character and liberality of the gentlemen engaged in getting it up, we can safely promise all who attend rare enjoyment. Respectable persons are invited to attend.

Heavy Business.—We learn that the receipts of hogs at the Central Yards last week reached between thirty-five and forty thousand head. The shipments were also large, about twenty thousand head being sent to New York alone.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, December 22, 1866.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as reported by Robinson, McClean & Co., were as follows: Gold, 133; Eighty-one bonds, 110¾; Five Twenties, old, 107¼; Five Twenties, '65, 105¾; Five Twenties, new, 107½; Ten-Forties, 99¼; Seven Thirties, 104¾; Michigan Southern R. R., 79¼; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 84¼; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago, 104¼; Chicago & Rock Island, 102¾; Erie, Railroad, 67¾; Chicago and North Western R. R., 43¾; do preferred, 78¾; Western Union Telegraph Company, 43.

The speculative party in New York seem to have had but a weak hold upon the market by the telegrams to-day. Railways have, it is true, been lower within a month or two past, than they are to-day, but United States bonds have not touched so low a point for a long time. The concurrent fall in gold and produce is doubtless the immediate cause, but lying back of that is the almost universal expectancy and hope that theory of prices is close at hand. Were there not abundant causes at home and abroad for bringing about such a state of things, this very looking for it, on the part of the community, would, of itself, hasten the result. While it is true, as we hear strongly asserted on the street, that gold at 133, is the cheapest thing in the market, it is equally true, that to cheapen produce, labor, and living, gold must first decline, or to be more exact, the currency, which commonly expresses values, must appreciate nearer the world-standard, hard gold and silver. The change, then, must first be apparent in gold, and if the present quotations can be maintained for a month on the present amount of outstanding circulation, a further decline to 125 will do but little harm, for by that time, other things will have fallen off in such due proportion, that a further curtailment of currency will be scarcely noticed.

We expect to see gold touch 130 before the holidays are over, perhaps even 125; after which, a reaction may occur that will put it back to 135, or thereabouts. But, it is evident from all that has been done thus far this session, that in the main, Congress will be in accord with Secretary McCulloch in his efforts to contract the currency and make values real and not nominal. Upon such calculations, only can a safe business be done.

Our local market for Governments is controlled by the daily quotations from New York, and, in sympathy with the market there, is lower. But little doing in the cheaper class of Railways. 15½ was bid to-day for Allegheny Valley; 9¾ for Connellsville, $4, we learn, for Steubenville, in large amounts. City and County bonds move slowly. City Fives at 75½@76, with nearly six months accrued interest, and are certainly cheap at that. Bank shares hold firm under the general decline, and are really stronger this week than last. We learn of no sales of Bridge or Gas stocks to-day, save a few shares of Birmingham Gas at 30¾. Oils are very flat. $11 per share was bid for Columbia—none offering under 13 that we could hear of. There is rather less paper on the street this week, the receipts for the holidays, though less than usual, helping merchants and others over the rough places.

—Several failures have been reported, among New England merchants. Speculations in pork, lard, corn and stocks have been tempting but unprofitable.

The oil interests are not dead. They promise (says the Philadelphia Press) to build up in Northwestern Pennsylvania a region that promises to be as prosperous as the anthracite coal district of Schuylkill. It should be borne in mind that, notwithstanding all the talk about the riches of other oil regions, the great bulk of our export is the product of Pennsylvania, the oil of other regions not meeting with a ready sale in foreign countries, owing to the inability of refiners to deodorize it sufficiently.

—The New York World, in a lengthy article, favors the desirability of making that portion of the National debt, now held in Europe, payable there.

—The Portland Price Current remarks as follows on the suspension of Bradley, Coolidge & Rogers, reported last week:

"The liabilities of the firm cannot yet be accurately ascertained, they being themselves unable to make any very definite approximation; but we regret to state that they are heavy, and the worse features are that a large portion of the liabilities of the concern are 'honary,' being for borrowed money, chiefly among a class of our citizens who cannot afford to lose the several amounts but a small portion of which was secured in any way.

"Messrs. W. & C. R. Milliken were the heaviest indorsers upon their paper, and the assignment was made to Messrs. Milliken, who will at present continue the business of Messrs. Bradley, Coolidge & Rogers."

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, December 22, 1866.

General trade continues dull for the season, and even those who reap a harvest in holiday times by the sale of goods peculiar to the season, complain of the backwardness and timidity of buyers. Consumption is, of course, reduced to its lowest possible limit among the masses; and production, though in many cases, not correspondingly restricted, is extremely wary of accumulation, especially in view of the contingencies of modified taxation, at the coming session of Congress. There appears to be a total absence of anything like a speculative feeling, and with a demand for the leading commodities restricted almost entirely to supplying the most pressing wants of consumers and retailers, round lot operations are not of very frequent occurrence.

GRAIN—Wheat is moderately active and steady, with some little inquiry, and No. 1 Spring is quoted at $2,60, though, we are assured, there was a sale of 2 cars at $2,45. Oats dull and in good supply, though there is no disposition apparent to force sales; we continue to quote at 48 to 50, on track, and in elevator, and 53 to 55, in store. Barley is excessively dull, the supply being largely in excess of the demand; we quote at 80 to $1 for fair to prime Spring. Rye is selling at $1,25 to $1,28. Corn is coming in a little more freely, though, as yet, prices are maintained—80 on track, for yellow in Ear, and 85 to 90, in store. There seems to be no demand scarcely for Barley Malt, and it is this that has caused the depression in the market for Barley.

FLOUR—Is steady and firm, though there is no improvement to note in the demand. We continue to quote at $11 to $11,50 for low grade Spring; $12 to $12,25 for good to choice do; $13 to $14 for Winter Wheat, and $15 to $17 for fancy brands. Rye Flour is selling at $8½ per bbl. Buckwheat at $4¾ to $4½ per cwt, in bbls, and $4½ to $4¾, in sacks.

HOGS—The arrivals at the Central Yards continue large, and the pens, we learn, are full to overflowing. With a supply somewhat in excess of the demand, prices have still further declined, and we now quote fair to good averages at 5¼ to 5¾,gross,and extra heavy at 6. Dressed Hogs may be quoted at 7 to 8c—packers paying 7 to 7½c.

APPLES—Continue in good demand, with light arrivals and a limited supply, prices are tending upward. We now quote at $3 to $3¼ for fair to good, and $3½ to $3¾ for prime to choice.

POTATOES—Are coming in pretty freely, and the market continues very dull; may be quoted at 90c for prime Peach Blows, on track, and 95 to $1 for small lots in store.

BUTTER—Is steady though the receipts continue liberal, and the supply is fully equal to the demand. Prime Roll is selling at 30.

EGGS—Continue to come in pretty freely, and as there is no improvement to note in the demand, the market may be quoted dull at 33 for fresh packed, and 2@3 cts less for limed.

DRIED FRUIT—Is quiet and unchanged—small sales at 10 to 11c for Apples, and 18 to 22 for Peaches.

BEANS—There is considerable inquiry for new small white and the supply is very light—may be quoted at $2,75 to $3 per bush.

HAY—Still holds its own, but from present indication, the extreme prices now prevailing cannot long be maintained, as there is every appearance that the market will be pretty well glutted within the next ten days.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, December 22, 1866.

CRUDE—The market for Crude presents no new features worthy of special notice. There is some inquiry for future delivery, while for immediate, the demand is very light, and prices are almost nominal, as there is scarcely enough doing to establish quotations. We quote in the absence of sales at 8 to 8½, in bulk, on the spot, and 14 to 14½, packages included. There are buyers for March, April and May, at about 9c, and at very few, if any sellers, at below 9½ to 9¾. For immediate delivery in Philadelphia, sales could be effected at 19, possibly 19½, and 19½ to 20 for March and April, but there seems to be a general aversion on the part of dealers here to selling delivered there, which, is owing in part to difficulty experienced in return of packages, as well as confusion in regard to guages. The sales during the week have been comparatively light, while prices have undergone but little change one way or the other.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was a little more active to-day, the sales being larger in the aggregate than for some days past, but there is no improvement to note in prices. W. P. Logan bought three thousand barrels for Pittsburgh parties, on speculation, to be delivered in Philadelphia, as follows: 500 for April, at 33; 500 for March, at 34; 500 for May, at 35; 500 for July, at 36; 500 for August, at 37, and 500 for September, at 38. This makes nine thousand barrels that have been bought on speculation by Pittsburghers within a short time, and it is not unlikely that other of our capitalists will do likewise, as the impression seems to be gaining ground that the bottom has been reached. Free oil is quiet and nominally unchanged; good standard brands may be quoted at 44 to 45 cents, in a jobbing way.

New York Financial Matters.

There are vague rumors in the street of Treasury officials being mixed up with the present raid. Gold closed at 133⅛; the two extremes of the day were 132¾@133⅝. Government Securities were dull and heavy this afternoon, resulting in a further decline in prices on gold bonds. The Treasury paper was comparatively steady; the closing quotations for gold bonds at 100, it will be seen, are the very lowest for a long time past: Registered of '81, 106½@107; Coupons of '81, 106½@107¼; Coupons of '62, 106½@106¾; Five-twenties Registered of '62, 104½@105; Five-twenty Coupons of 1862, 106½@106¾; do '65, 104¾@105; Ten-forty Coupons, 99@99¼. RIVER NEWS.

The river was about at a stand last evening, with three and a half feet in the channel. The weather continues warm and sulky, with an occasional drizzling of rain, and as the snow is rapidly disappearing there is every prospect of a big river.

There has not been a single arrival or departure since our last report. The Sherman and Glendale from St. Louis, and the Golden Era from Cincinnati, are among the boats due. The Glendale passed Pomery on Friday.

The Argosy, Capt. Vandergrift, will leave to-day at 12 o'clock positively, for Cincinnati, and passengers and shippers should bear this in mind. Hereafter she will leave on Wednesday, as usual, her regular day. The Argosy is a neat passenger steamer, and is in charge of obliging and experienced officers.

The Argosy and Leonora are loading for Cincinnati; Arabian, for St. Louis, and the Leonidas and Kate Robinson, for New Orleans.

Says the St. Louis Democrat, of Friday:

Low water is the only obstacle to contend with hence to Cairo. The ice in the river has become harmless. Three boats are reported aground, and, singularly enough, they are not of the larger class. They must have missed the channel, for there is six feet of water on the bars. The river continues falling slowly; the thaw suffered no interruption, and the mud and slush has increased to fearful proportions.

The Ida Rees arrived at Cincinnati on Friday, and the Glasgow was advertised to leave there for Pittsburgh on Saturday. We clip the following items from Cincinnati Commercial, of Saturday:

The Emperor, recently sunk and raised at the head of the canal, is expected to arrive here to-day, for repairs......Capt. Geo. W. Neare returned from Louisville yesterday. He is of the opionion that the Argonaut No. 2 can be raised as soon as the river recedes. The submarine Underwriter was along side the wreck, receiving a lot of damaged flour, &c. ....The Emma No. 3 yesterday reshipped 175 tuns iron ore on the Potomac, and 200 tuns pig metal on the Glasgow.......The Ida Rees came in from Pittsburgh with a full cargo, including several lots for reshipment to Nashville and New Orleans. She reports running through heavy ice from Wheeling to Marietta. There was a little light ice floating past this city yesterday, too light to impede navigation, however.

Says the Cincinnati Commercial, of Friday: The engine house of the Eureka Docks caught fire yesterday noon, and was damaged to the extent of $500 before the flames were extinguished. The Anglo Saxon was in the docks at the time undergoing repairs, but was not injured......The Havana left Nashville yesterday for Cincinnati......The Memphis, recently sunk in the Arkansas river, was owned by Messrs. Able & Watt, and insured in the Union National and Magnolia offices, of Cincinnati, for $7500—$2500 each. The submarine steamer Northwest left Evansville last night for the wreck of the Memphis.......Arch McVickers, mate of the Montona, was killed by Sam Cowan, on the Lily at Tuscaloosa, Alabama, a few days ago.......The John H. Groesbeck, having secured all the freight she wants, will positive leave for New Orleans to-day........The Messenger, Capt. Jesse Dean, is also fast filling up, and will positively depart for New Orleans to-morrow.

The St. Louis Democrat says: R. Harry O'Brien, formerly river reporter of the Republican and other papers, is at last in luck. Our Board of Aldermen have appointed him Register's clerk, for which act we excuse some of their short-comings. Harry will be a good clerk. He is worthy of the excellent position he has attained.

We clip the following river items from the Louisville Courier, of Thursday:

Yesterday morning, at 4 o'clock, the sternwheel steamer Argonaut No. 2, Capt. Richmond, just after leaving the New Albany wharf, where she had discharged a lot of clay for the glass works, struck the ledge of slate rocks, and almost immediately sunk. She was attempting to run through a fog, and had made but a few revolutions ahead, when she struck heavily, the stern, sinking about fifteen feet water. She lies alongside the bank close to shore, with the water up to her boiler deck forward, and the water on the cabin floor aft. She had some fifteen cabin and twenty deck passengers, all of whom were saved unhurt. The engineer was working her slowly at the time, but, being laden with iron, her bow was crushed on the instant of contact with the slate shelf or reef..........The towboat Baltic, with nine or ten barges ofcoal in tow, destined for New Orleans, did not get away until Tuesday evening..........The famous towboats Dick Fulton and Ajax are being prepared to start to New Orleans, with another tow of coal. They made quick time up from New Orleans, the Dick Fulton ahead..........The great Cincinnati towboat, Sam. Roberts, came down yesterday and descended the falls, bound for New Orleans. She had a number of barges in tow, with 700 tons of miscellaneous freight; also, 200 mules and 800 tons of hay, a huge cargo, if all on one bottom..........The Quickstep, for Evansville, descended the falls yesterday from the upper waters.

Says the Louisville Journal of Friday: The Underwriters is alongside the sunken Argonaut No. 2, and will commence to remove her freight. She will not attempt to raise her until the river is lower. She expects to save the whisky and iron unhurt, and the flour is in a slightly damaged condition.
